Color code meaning:

In Red are marked incorrect words/sentences that should be removed or replaced with anything marked in green that follows.

In Green are marked new, corrected words/sentences

━━

Do not mourn, Great God, for you are an immortal.
The memory of your People will live in the aeons,
And so will you:
→
The memory of your People will live in the aeons, and so will you!
Bless us to carry you forth into the minds and souls of mankind!

Editor's note: The change here is that instead of splitting the sentence on 2 lines, it is now on one line and ends with an exclamation mark. So the whole paragraph now looks like this:

Do not mourn, Great God, for you are an immortal.
The memory of your People will live in the aeons, and so will you!
Bless us to carry you forth into the minds and souls of mankind!
